

MEXICAN REPLY TO U.S. NOTE DEFIANT

CARRANZA REFUSES TO HALT COURT ACTION AGAINST W. O. JENKINS

Note, in Emphatic Language, Contends Legal Proceedings Affecting American Citizen Cannot Be Decided By Information Supplied by State Department Nor By "Recommendations" From Washington.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17.—The Mexican government refuses to relinquish the legal proceedings against William O. Jenkins, United States consul agent at Puebla, in the reply to the latest United States note which has just been forwarded to Washington through the United States embassy.

The note is defiant in tone and the language in setting forth the attitude of the Mexican government is emphatic. The note contends that court proceedings affecting an American citizen in Mexico cannot be decided by information supplied by the state department in Washington nor by "recommendations" from Washington.

In conclusion the document expresses belief that the "Jenkins" case will not affect the harmony, which it is sincerely desired, shall continue between Mexico and the United States.

The reply was forwarded today by George Summerlin, the American charge d'affaires. He received it from the Mexican foreign office late last night. The text of the note follows:

Text of Mexican Note

"Your Excellency, charge d'affaires George Summerlin: With reference to your note of November 30 which your excellency transmitted to the Mexican government by order of the United States government, relative to the case of William O. Jenkins, I have the honor to communicate to you that the Mexican government in answering this note will confine itself only to a few principal points which it contains without going into strict details, with the object of studying only fixed precedents as according to international jurisprudence and justify its course in public opinion.

"As Jenkins obtained his liberty by the deposit of bail with the Puebla authorities by a certain American citizen, it is presumed that all ill-feeling between both countries disappeared and that the Jenkins' case has taken an entirely different aspect from that which it formerly held.

"The United States government declares that it declines to go into a legal discussion of the various questions arising from the Jenkins' case. The Mexican government contrarily to discussing the matter of right in a matter which is naturally judicial, preserves this right if from certain points the evidence is not adequate.

Reject U. S. Statements

"In its former note the department of foreign affairs explained at length certain points in the belief that full exposition of the details would justify the legality of the proceedings that have been taken.

"In its final paragraph the note insisted upon the immediate release of Jenkins. As a reason for this the United States government holds the belief that the charge of perjury against Jenkins is unfounded. As this is the simple belief of the United States government it is not enough proof for the Mexican courts and his (Jenkins') innocence must be completely established by legal process. The Mexican government cannot accept this belief (of the American government) as basis for the release of Jenkins on cessation of the proceedings against a foreign citizen by the Mexican judicial authorities.

"The belief of the United States government is probably based on reports received in this matter. Such information, apart from its real value, a discussion of which is not desired by the Mexican government, lacks impartiality. For this reason the statements of the American government do not satisfy the Mexican courts and are not proof in the eyes of Mexican laws.

"The Mexican government cannot admit that American citizens shall be held and released according to information that is supplied to the United States state department. Nor can American citizens be judged according to recommendations by a foreign government instead of by due process of law and the courts of this country.

"Jenkins' liberty was granted by the Puebla judge and the case is now being studied by the supreme court to decide which court is competent to continue adjudication of the case. The Mexican government believes that this matter will not affect the harmony, which it is desired, shall continue to exist between Mexico and the United States."

The note is signed by Hilario Medina, acting secretary of foreign affairs.

The apparent belief on the part of the Mexican government that the release of Jenkins relieves the situation does not meet with accord from the officials of the state department. They declared that the fact that Jenkins' bail was furnished by an American citizen against Jenkins' wishes does not relieve the Mexican government of any responsibility. Since the Mexican government based its reply on the principle of "due process of law" officials were somewhat puzzled as to just what the next step would be, for they admitted that the United States would act carefully when it came to a question of interfering with the procedure of the Mexican supreme court, where the Jenkins' case now rests.

SHARP REPLY EXPECTED TO BE MADE BY STATE DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Mexican note had not arrived at the state department early today, according to officials and they stated that it probably would not be in the hands of the secretary of state for some time, inasmuch as it must be decoded.

Secretary of State Lansing refused to read press dispatches of the Mexican note. He stated that he would not be concerned until the official text of the note reached him and he would not be concerned until the official text was decoded.

Officials were of the opinion that the refusal of the Carranza government to relinquish court proceedings against Jenkins would be met with a sharp reply demanding expedition and final investigation which is taken.

STEUBENVILLE WOMAN LOSES $4,000 JEWEL ON WAY HERE

Diamond Lavalliere Owned by Mrs. Fred Laban Disappears.

POLICE INVESTIGATE

Whether Jeweler's Wife Was Robbery Victim Not Determined.

Police in half a score of Ohio valley cities Wednesday were enlisted in the search for a diamond lavalliere valued at approximately $4,000, belonging to Mrs. Fred Laban, wife of a Steubenville jeweler, which disappeared while the owner was en route to a social function in East Liverpool.

Whether the lavalliere became unfastened from the neck of Mrs. Laban or was stolen is not known. The loss of the jewel was discovered, it is said, when Mr. and Mrs. Laban were on board an interurban car bound for this city.

Mrs. Laban, according to the story told the police, was in possession of the jewel just before boarding the car at Steubenville. Because of the crowded condition of the car she was unable to get a seat with her husband and rode as far as Toronto with another woman. At that point a seat was vacated and Mr. Laban rejoined his wife. It was at this juncture, it was stated, that the loss of the jewel was discovered.

Police in practically every city along the Ohio valley between Pittsburgh and Wheeling have been asked to aid in the search for the jewel, while pawn shops have been notified to keep a lookout for it.

CALDER FACES THEFT CHARGE

Local Man Denies Knowledge That Auto Tires Were Stolen.

Indicted on a charge of being a party in the theft of two automobiles belonging to the Ohio Motor Sales company, Lawrence Calder, this city, faced trial before Common Pleas Judge J. G. Moore at Lisbon Wednesday.

Calder admitted having purchased tires from Ross McCartney, also of this city, who pleaded guilty to the theft earlier this week in common pleas court, but claims that he was unaware the property had been stolen. He told the court that he and McCartney had quarreled and that the charge was merely a plan of McCartney's to "get even."

P. V. Mackall, of this city, member of the automobile firm from which the tires were stolen, testified that Calder paid for the tires when shown that they had really been stolen.

NEW IS HAGGARD ON SECOND DAY OF TRIAL

Accused Slayer of Sweetheart Avoids Stare of Crowd In Court Room at Los Angeles, Cal.

By W. BOYD GATEWOOD.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—Harry New went into his second day of the trial for the murder of his sweetheart, Freda Lesser, visibly haggard and worn. Compelled to pass abreast of the entire crowd in the little court room, he avoided their stare and barely dropped his eyes in recognition as he passed his devoted mother, Mrs. Lillie Bergear, who sits hour after hour staring ahead at her son.

Thus far, Mrs. Lesser, mother of the murdered girl, has not appeared at the trial, it is believed she is conserving her feeble strength in order to appear at a crucial period in the trial when by her dramatic entry she will exert a subtle but powerful influence on the jury.

Six women out of eight have been rejected by both sides because of conscientious objections to sitting at a trial which may mean the hanging of New. One woman caused a stir when she stated from the jury box that she believed capital punishment a crime equal to that of the murder of which is accused.

Women who may dominate in the jury which will decide Harry's fate also dominated in numbers of spectators at the trial. Of the 300 who overflowed the court room, 185 were of the "weaker" sex.

Attorney C. W. Claypool, of Indianapolis, known to have represented Mrs. Berger in her "paternity" litigation with Senator New 30 years ago, had not arrived here today. Rumors have been in circulation for a week that he was coming to Los Angeles quietly to represent the senator's interests in the trial.

STOPPED FOR REPAIRS

Truckload of Confiscated Booze Removed to City Hall.

A truck load of liquor, valued at approximately $10,000, was confiscated by East Liverpool police during a temporary halt for adjustment of the truck at a Broadway garage shortly after 1 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The truck, said to belong to Samuel Manolovitz of Chester was en route from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Steubenville, police were told. A barrel of whiskey, three barrels of gin and a quantity of cordials made up the cargo.

Encountering heavy snows, the drivers of the truck stopped at the Ceramic garage, corner of Broadway and East Fifth street, shortly after midnight to put on chains before attempting to negotiate the rough country roads between here and Steubenville.

It was while the truck was under adjustment that the police were "tipped off" as to the nature of its cargo. Patrolmen Cornelius Buton and C. D. Hissam swooped down upon the drivers of the truck and took custody of the cargo.

The confiscated liquor was removed to city hall and placed under lock and key. No effort was made by the police to detain the drivers of the truck, the matter has been brought to the notice of the federal authorities and the liquor will be retained here pending the arrival of government officials.

The liquor, according to the police, is owned by a Steubenville man and was being transported from a Pittsburgh storage house to Steubenville.

The bonuses will be paid, according to school authorities, to all instructors who taught in the local public schools throughout the last semester and who finished the spring term, in addition to their regular salaries.

It is likely, said Prof. A. D. Horton, that at least two new teachers will be added to the present staff, one for the high school faculty and one to take charge of the manual training, a new study to be added to the school curriculum. The large number of students graduating from the eighth grade into the high school is responsible for the proposed addition of another high school instructor.

On Sunday, it is announced, three services will be held, one in the morning, one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

Honor District Deputy

Mrs. Donald Brown, district deputy of the Daughters of America, was tendered a surprise Tuesday evening by approximately a hundred of the members of the organization, who, in recognition of her work, was presented with a leather traveling bag. The affair took place in the city council chamber.

Mrs. William Morris, past national councillor of the Daughters of America, made the principal address during the remainder of the program. Refreshments were served.

HARD SCHEDULE FOR HIGH SCHOOL FIVE

That Wellsville High School's basketball team will meet some of the fastest floor teams in the valley during the winter season, is indicated by the announcement that the speedy Martins Ferry High school five has been booked for two games.

The Belmont county scholastics will entertain the members of the Orange January 31. On February 14, the down-river team will stage a return contest with Van Tilburg's quintet here.

The Martins Ferry team is considered as one of the fastest scholastic teams in the valley, having several times within the past few years landed the valley championship from some stiff opposition. Games also have been scheduled with Cambridge, Wheeling, East Liverpool, Moundsville and Calaisville.

It is likely that the local team will open up the 1920 half of their schedule in their new quarters, the gymnasium of the new high school building. When completely equipped the gymnasium at the local school will be one of the best appointed "gym" in the valley.

Teachers in all grades will welcome the receipt of the $10 bonus recently granted by the board of education.

The bonuses will be paid, according to school authorities, to all instructors who taught in the local public schools throughout the last semester and who finished the spring term, in addition to their regular salaries.

It is likely, said Prof. A. D. Horton, that at least two new teachers will be added to the present staff, one for the high school faculty and one to take charge of the manual training, a new study to be added to the school curriculum. The large number of students graduating from the eighth grade into the high school is responsible for the proposed addition of another high school instructor.

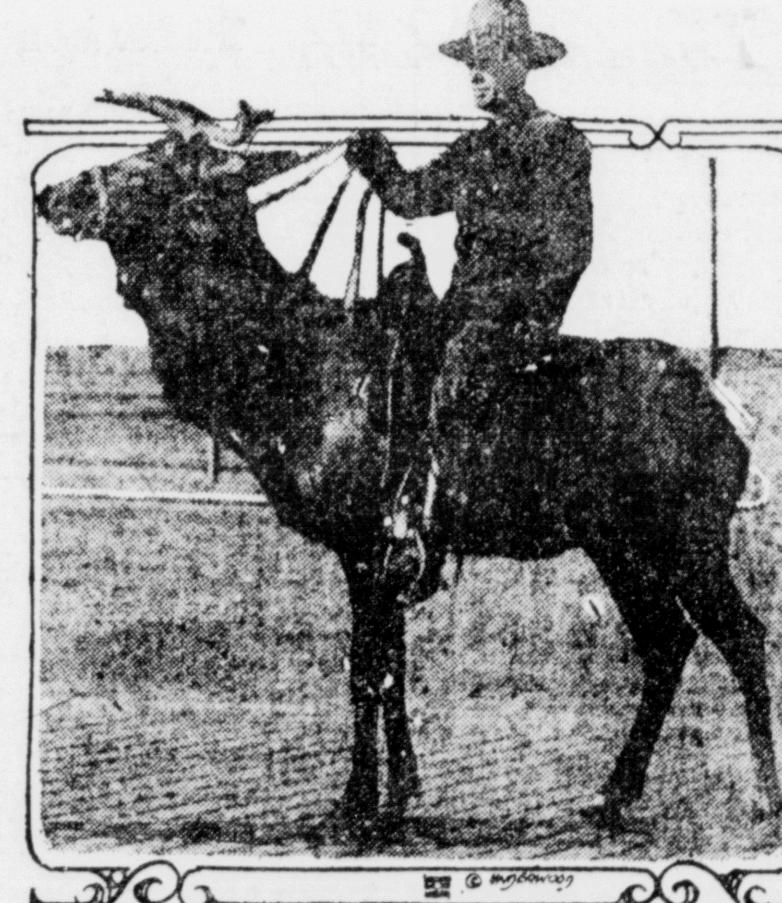

With the receipt of their December salaries Tuesday night, another council passed out of existence. Several members of the organization were candidates for re-election at the November elections but the first ward candidate alone was successful in securing reappointment.

The passing of this council marks the end of the third term of President H. M. Driggs.

A. B. Crubaugh will preside at council beginning with the first meeting in January. Councilmen-at-large will be as follows: Ed. Alton, Dwight McLean and John Wooley. First ward councilman is W. G. Anderson, second ward, A. J. Evans, third ward, Earl Patton, fourth ward, W. H. Grimm. The first meeting of the new body will be held January 6th.

Little business was transacted at the final meeting of the city council body Tuesday night. A communication from the Daughters of America, extending an invitation to council to attend the ceremonies to be held Friday

TAME ELK IS BROKEN TO SADDLE

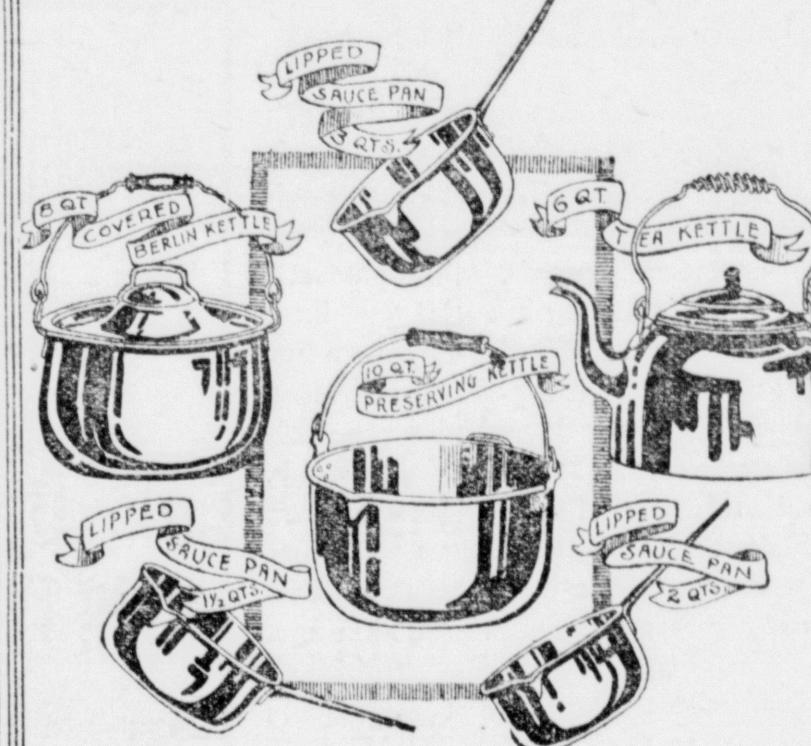

Buck McKea riding trained elk in Potomac park, Washington.

A full-grown elk, tamed to ride to saddle, is attracting much attention in Washington, D. C., these days. When the elk was a day old its mother was killed. The baby elk was carried to the ranch house of Scout Younger who is now in Washington with the animal. It was raised with the aid of a goat foster-mother. The elk is as affectionate as a horse and has been taught many tricks. The photo also shows the novel shoes constructed to protect the animal's feet.

HELP THE TIRED CLERK AND POSTAL EMPLOYEE.

Despite the appeals of every agency familiar with conditions, there will be scores of foot-sore and tired salesladies, salesmen and postal employees in East Liverpool Christmas day unless there is a greater response on the part of the public to the injunction, "Do your Christmas shopping now and mail your Christmas packages early."

Realizing the tax upon the strength of their faithful workers, merchants and postoffice authorities for the past few weeks have been urging Christmas shoppers not to delay their buying and mailing of presents until the last minute. Notwithstanding the daily reminders of the short interval before Christmas, scores defer compliance with the appeal until the last week.

Clerks in stores and the postoffices are human beings and have as much right to consideration as the shopper. If many patrons of stores and the hundreds who send Christmas packages to distant cities wait until a day or so before the holiday to purchase and dispatch their remembrances for friends, they will not add much pleasure to the work of the man or woman who stands behind the counter or who holds a job in Uncle Sam's employ.

Merchants and postoffice officials have extra clerks on duty and have made special arrangements for the accommodation of the public. It would lighten the burden of the faithful employees of the stores and postoffice if most of the Christmas shopping and mailing could be cleaned up this week, thus reducing the work on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Christmas.

Aside from the humanitarian side of this question, it is for the best interest of the gift purchaser that he heed this appeal, for choice articles are now on display in the stores, while delay beyond this week in mailing Christmas packages may mean non-arrival at destination in time for delivery on Christmas day.

Do your Christmas shopping today.

CHRISTMAS REPRIEVE FOR BOOZE?

Strenuous efforts are being put forth by liquor interests—and, it must be admitted, by some liquor patrons—to get a holiday reprieve for old John Barleycorn. Inasmuch as he is condemned to execution the middle of January, they urge, it would be no more than right to give him a little old-time freedom at Christmas time. There are many million gallons of booze that the liquor men would like to sell; and it might be supposed, from the tearful pleading, that every drop of that booze is yearning to have itself drunk up in one final celebration.

The appeal has been made to congress to let down the bars temporarily "for the Christmas trade." And congress is being tempted with gold—the promise of half a billion dollars in internal revenue receipts, and maybe a billion more in the excess profits taxes of distillers and dealers.

Congress, however, refuses to budge. And congress in this matter is sure of steadfast public support. Imagine the sort of Christmas it would be, with a deluge of strong liquor suddenly let loose after a prolonged drought! It would be bad enough at any time, and especially so at Christmas time. A national alcoholic debauch is not the American people's idea of a Christmas celebration.

NIGGARDLY CHURCH WILL DIE.

It may be said, without any flourish of prophetic trumpets, that unless the members of Christian churches in America pay their ministers higher salaries, there will be no ministers to pay salaries to.

Not that the ministers will strike, as do the laborers in every other calling. The American clergy has no intention of striking, although English brethren of the cloth threatened some such summary method of forcing recognition of their plight. The prediction means something more serious, if less immediate and upsetting. Church members may as well face the fact that unless better salaries and higher standards of living are offered clergymen, the young men of this and the succeeding generation will not enter the ministry.

Able and wide-awake young men will not take six or eight years of their lives to study for a profession where the rewards, as recently stated by a New York clergyman, are, on the average, less than the amount necessary to buy and operate a flivver for a year. The call to God's service cannot sound very loud in the ears of able men when it has no more power behind it than $600 a year generates. Ministers do not work for money alone, but they need enough to enable them to live in decent comfort, and to educate their offspring to a degree commensurate with their standing in the community and their rights as children of public servants and public benefactors.

PROFITS AND PATRIOTS.

"Excess profits, too, are offensive, but they gave the country coal which could have been got in no other way," says an editorial in the New York Times, referring to the fuel crisis during the war.

When one reads this in connection with the present sugar "famine," and realizes how quickly the famine became a moderate sufficiency as soon as the price was put up a few cents, one is moved to reflect a little on the subject of patriotism.

If the Times statement conveys any meaning at all, is it not simply that the coal operators were plainly profiteering during the war? That but for the excess profits permitted, the operators would not have done their duty?

Apparently there is more wrong in the coal fields of America than a miners' strike, and more behind the alleged sugar shortage than a deficient crop in Cuba.

New York complains of a famine in small change. What's the difference? Who ever bothers to give anybody change in New York?

Why kick so much about taxes? They haven't gone up near so much as the other necessities of life?

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Edgar Allan Poe is America's best beloved writer abroad according to Vicente Blasco Ibanez, the famous Spanish novelist, now visiting Manhattan. The author's greatest afternoon in America was the one this week set aside for a quiet visit to the humble and tragic home of the author of "The Raven" and "The Cask of Amontillado."

Poe's cottage is a quaint little one-story frame house, painted white, on the Grand Concourse on the upper fringe of the city. The ground around it has been dedicated and is known as Poe Park. The building is just the same as it was when Poe lived there in company with his fantastic satans and ethereal sweethearts.

A party of five went with Ibanez. It was just dark when they arrived at the Poe home. The air was chilly and dank as Poe would have said. Six or seven candles sputtered feebly against the walls and threw fantastic shadows into the small bedroom, where, so history hath it, the author of "The Raven" had spent so many nights of anguish and unearthly vision.

It is strange but there are very few New Yorkers who know where Poe lived and they have never seen the park or the little tragic cottage. The only indication that it was the home of the genius of the odd is the little black raven painted in the front.

There is a little porch, much like a modern doll house porch. At night Poe used to sit out there alone with the stars smoking and dreaming. Then he was in the wilderness of New York for many miles away. Off to his right was the Hudson and the Jersey coast.

Around about him were all sorts

Bing---Bing, Bing, Bang, Boom!

The drums go marching by! Which boy is it that in the hour of need has not substituted a kettle or a pot, turned bottom side up, for a drum? What boy has not played horse with a clothes prop? Guard Your Children's Health

Future Physical Condition Depends on Health During Childhood Days

Healthy Children Red-Blooded.

Pepto-Mangan Restores Pale, Thin Anemic Children to Normal Vigor.

Parents with the best interests of their children's health and happiness at heart, watch their children very carefully during the years when the foundation for future health is being laid.

Prompt attention should be given the boy or girl who seems listless, who doesn't laugh, romp and play like other children, whose appetite is poor, and whose body is under-developed. The condition of such children is often caused by thin, impoverished blood. Good health depends upon good blood. If the blood lacks the necessary richness to supply the body with nourishment, good health is impossible.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is particularly beneficial to pale, thin, listless children. It is a delicious, nutritious, rich, healthy blood, creating thousands of the tiny red-blood cells that carry vigor to every part of the body. Pepto-Mangan is prepared in tablet as well as liquid form. Both possess exactly the same medicinal qualities. "Gude's" is the only genuine Pepto-Mangan. Look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan.

A Wide Margin of Safety

A MAN about to hire a chauffeur asked each applicant how near he could drive to the edge of a precipice.

One said a foot, another said six inches, a third said two inches. But the fourth said, "I keep just as far away from a precipice as I can." He was hired.

The wise property owner, like the careful chauffeur, prefers a wide margin of safety. He insures his possessions to the limit and then takes every precaution against fire.

WILL MAKE REAL FIGHT

Senator, However, Says He Will Not Make Pre-Convention Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio last night became an announced candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

Declaring that he "yields to the party wish in Ohio without condition or reservation, so far as one may with honor and respect," the favorite son of Buckeye Republicans makes known his candidacy in a letter to the party committee of Miami county, from which the senator received the first endorsement for president from his home state.

The Marion statesman is not permitting the use of his name as a candidate simply as part of a plan to control the Ohio delegation in the national convention at Chicago in June. He makes perfectly plain that he has received encouragement from elsewhere than in Ohio, and that he is in good faith a candidate for the nomination.

Senator Harding states that he will not personally indulge in a pre-convention canvass. He stands on his public record in the senate. What he has to say, including specifications as to certain party principles, is contained in his letter, as follows, addressed to Chairman Clare Hughes of

GERMANY INDICTS PRINCE WILLIAM FOR SMUGGLING

Prince William of Weid.

Prince William of Weid, formerly prince of Albania, has been indicted by the German government on the charge of smuggling airplanes into the Miami county Republican committee at Piqua:

"Please know of my gratitude for the cordial endorsement of your committee, and accept assurances of my assent to the requested use of my name in choosing delegates to the Republican national convention.

"A previous communication to our state organization and many letters to political friends have expressed my real reluctance to permit the use of my name in this connection, and it was genuinely since, and expressed then my personal and political preference.

"I do not forget, however, that my first obligation politically is to the Republicans of our state who have so generously honored me, and I cannot ignore the natural and laudable wish to maintain the large part Ohio has taken in the national councils of the party, and to invite the attention of Republicans in the nation to the availability of a candidate from our great state.

"Had some other Republican among the many fitted for such distinction been suggested, I would gladly have joined in supporting him. But the fortunes of politics and the activities incident to official position have combined to suggest my name, and the primary election laws of Ohio require my assent to any definite efforts to choose a delegation in a declaration favorable to me.

"This consent will be written at the proper time in behalf of such candidates for delegates in the several districts and at large as becoming party councils may suggest. I shall have no personal preference in the matter but will gladly co-operate in making effective the manifest wish of the Republicans of the state.

"One thing must be stated. We are all agreed that a thing worth doing at all is worth doing with all one's might. I could not assent to an enterprise designed merely to control Ohio's representation in the national convention.

"This undertaking is not without encouragement beyond the borders of our state, and we must play a worthy part, assuming our fellow Republicans of utter good faith, and that it is ever our belief that party success is of first importance when Republican restoration is so vital to the nation.

"Again uttering my grateful appreciation, yielding to the party wish in Ohio without condition or reservation, so far as one may with honor and respect, and pledging you my readiness to abide by the majority conclusion and still serve with party devotion, I am,

"Very respectfully,

"W. G. HARDING."

PASTOR IS SURPRISED BY HIS PARISHIONERS

About fifty members of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church tendered their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Deeds, a pleasant surprise Tuesday evening at the parsonage here.

The evening was spent in a social manner with music as the principal diversion. Special music by the choir was one of the features. Luncheon was served during the evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Deeds were the recipients of a purse of money, together with a large quantity of groceries.

JOSEPH MAY HOME DAMAGED BY FIRE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph May, of Grant street, was slightly damaged by fire, originating from an over-heated furnace Tuesday.

The fire started around a register in one of the down stairs rooms. Mrs. May discovered the blaze and attempted to extinguish it with a bucket of water. She then called the Newell fire department. The blaze was extinguished by the use of chemicals.

The loss to the house was but slight, a few of the rafters and the floor were scorched, although the down stairs part and cellar were filled with smoke. The loss is covered by insurance.

That's Dr. King's New Discovery for fifty years a cold-breaker!

NOTHING but sustained quality and unfailing effectiveness can arouse such enthusiasm. Nothing but sure relief from stubborn colds and crushing new ones. Croup, throat-tearing coughs, androup could have made Dr. King's New Discovery the nationally popular and standard remedy it is today. Fifty years old and always reliable. Good for the whole family. A bottle in the medicine cabinet means a short-lived cold or cough. 50c. and $1.20. All druggists.

FOR PAST 5 YEARS VOMITING SPELLS CAME REGULARLY EVERY 3 MONTHS

Specialists Failed to Stop Them — Had Given Up Hope of Getting Over Them.

Landlord Offered to Give Him a Bottle of Dreco Free, if He Would Take It. He is Now Fully Recovered he says.

"For the past five years I've suffered from a peculiar sickness, which several prominent specialists have failed to cure," said Mr. Walter Brooks of 166 Lamar street, Dayton, O., foreman of machine shops at Maxwell Motor Co.

"Regularly every three months I'd have severe vomiting spells which lasted for about two weeks. I'd be very sick during these spells and was quite uncomfortable.

I'd about given up hope of ever getting well, when one day Harry Shofer, my landlord, a big property holder, came to my house and urged me to try Dreco, for he knew the good there was in the medicine from use in his own family. He even tried to send me a bottle free, if I'd promise to take it. I got a bottle and took it and when I had finished the first bottle, the only good I could see from it was that my bowels were better regulated than in years. But when I had taken three bottles I stopped vomiting and haven't vomited another time since, nor even felt like it. It seems wonderful to me when I think of what I have endured for the past five years. I consider Dreco the most wonderful medicine of the day for stomach and bowel troubles."

When the stomach gets out of order, you may watch out for trouble most anywhere; watch the first signs of stomach trouble, such as belching, gas, burrs, full feeling, indigestion, heart burn and correct them before they lead to serious trouble. Take a treatment of Dreco before it is too late.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in East Liverpool by Flick's Drug Store, Fifth and Market streets.

EX-SENATOR MARSHALL RETURNS FROM MEET

Ex-Senator Oliver S. Marshall of New Cumberland has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he attended the annual convention of the Rivers and Harbors Congress. Mr. Marshall was one of the two delegates from Hancock county appointed by Gov. John J. Cornwell.

All sessions of the congress were largely attended, Mr. Marshall states. The Republican national committee being in session in Washington at the same time, more than a score of West Virginia Republicans, including Attorney John Marshall of Parkersburg, a son of the ex-senator, were in the capital city, not only to attend the committee meeting, but to discuss party problems at home. Two announced candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination were present with their chief aides. They were Judge E. F. Morgan of Fairmont and Fred P. Grosscup of Charleston. Mayor Grant P. Hall of Charleston will manage the Morgan campaign, while Attorney Marshall has been suggested to manage Grosscup's campaign.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostriis Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of Influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished.

It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

FIRST SLED MAKES APPEARANCE ON STREET

CHRISTMAS BUYING RUSH BEGINS HERE

The first sled of the season was seen on the streets of Chester Wednesday morning, a Beaver county farmer using it to make a trip to town.

Farmers residing back of Chester reported a heavy snowfall Tuesday night and that the sledding is comparatively good considering the rough condition of the roads.

Tuesday night's snow was the first real snowfall of the winter. The early morning cars operated on schedule Wednesday, the snow sweeper having traversed all the local lines before the first passenger cars were brought into service.

The weather had moderated to some degree, Wednesday. The thermometer in front of the Enoch Riley newsstand at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning registered seven degrees above zero.

Arrives at Hot Springs.

Harry G. Mercer of the Chester Hardware, Virginia Avenue, Wednesday, received a card from J. S. Stewart, formerly of Gas Valley, announcing the safe arrival of himself and his wife at Hot Springs, Ark., where they will spend the winter in hopes of securing their health. Mr. Stewart says that both he and Mrs. Stewart are feeling well.

DEFER WORK ON NEW HOME UNTIL SPRING

No effort will be made to begin the improvement to the old Schrader home, recently purchased by a member of the building committee.

Because of the large amount of cement and concrete work, which is necessary in connection with the proposed improvements, the committee has decided to defer action.

During the winter months, the lodge will use the house for social purposes only. The interior is partly furnished, being carpeted and also fitted with a number of chairs and tables. The lodge home on Virginia Avenue, near first street, will be retained until the improvements are completed to the recently acquired property.

On Saturday night the two teams will journey to Follansbee where they will line up against the two representatives of that high school.

The boys' team of the Follansbee high school went down to defeat at Weirton last week by the score of 35 to 14.

Greatest of All Sixes

Spring'll Be Here
'fore You Know It

DESPIRE conditions which greatly held back the production of automobiles throughout the early months of this year, nearly twenty thousand discriminating motor car buyers have been made happy and contented by the possession of their new Chandler cars.

Nothing could more clearly show the regard in which America holds the Chandler Six, than the patience with which thousands waited for weeks and months for their Chandlers. They waited because they knew what they were waiting for—because they know it is WORTH waiting for.

Some are still waiting, but their cars are coming. December production is taking care of many orders, and January will see the great Chandler plant on a production basis unprecedented in the medium priced fine car field.

All Chandler bodies are mounted on the one standard Chandler chassis, which has made the name famous. Simple, sturdy and dependable throughout, its features embrace, as for years past, the really marvelous Chandler motor, solid cast aluminum motor base, annular ball bearings, silent chain drive for the auxiliary motor shafts, and Bosch magneto ignition.

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

After Orders—Production; After Production—Dividends

Our last advertisement mentioned orders received for Ferris Motor Cars. We planned to make a thousand cars during 1920. We were obliged to move this up to two thousand. Inquiries received during the past week indicate that five thousand cars of the Ferris character can be sold without effort.

As to Production

The neck of the bottle in car production today is materials. We have acceptances on material contracts which assure us of deliveries to meet our 1920 production right down to the last nut and bolt.

With definite orders in hand and material on the ground or certainly available, our manufacturing problem is settled—definite production, definite sale, definite income, definite profits.

Going

The Ohio Trailer Company was a going organization for six years, paying dividends, thoroughly organized, efficiently working. This organization merged into The Ohio Motor Vehicle Company with all its assets, good will, plant, officers, market, purchasing power and sales outlets.

The old business will be maintained with the Ferris Motor Car production added to it.

Investment in The Ohio Motor Vehicle Company is, therefore, investment in a company that has been forced to expand to take care of its orders and to make better returns to its stockholders.

All the added capital secured from the sale of new stock goes without waste or expense into the purchase of materials and the satisfaction of payrolls for the manufacture of two thousand cars that are already sold, with an unsaturated market for as many more as we can produce for several years to come.

MARY PICKFORD AT CERAMIC THURSDAY

At her fourteenth birthday, Mavis Hawn, a Kentucky mountain girl decides that books and not bullets are essential to her life's success. So thinking she mounts the family donkey and sets out for the lowland school to find the strangest thing she has ever seen—a railroad train, which she thinks is a threshing machine.

This is one of the unusual situations in "Heart O' the Hills," adapted from the story by John Fox, Jr., in which Mary Pickford will be seen at the Ceramic theater commencing Thursday. This is Mary Pickford's third First National attraction produced in her own studios of which her mother is business manager.

ALEX LED ALL RIVAL HURLERS

Manager Fred Mitchell Believes Alexander Will Maintain Great Record In 1920.

By JACK VEICK

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Grover Alexander of the Cubs, forced opposing batsmen to work hard for every run made off him during the 1919 season.

The official pitching averages of the National League for the recent season show that the great Alex led all rival hurlers in the matter of effectiveness. He allowed but 1.72 earned runs per nine-inning game and was credited with sixteen victories and eleven defeats.

Fred Mitchell believes Alexander will be just as great a pitcher as he ever was in 1920.

"Alex did not get started till the latter part of the season," said Mitchell during the National League meeting here. "He found himself after we had dropped too far behind to figure any longer for the pennant, but he has demonstrated to my entire satisfaction that he is still the greatest pitcher he was when he came to the Cubs, and I expect to see him win at least twenty-five games next year. He may do better than that."

"Dutch" Reutter, the star moundsmen of the world's champion Reds, was the highest percentage pitcher during the season finishing with a percentage of .760. Jess Barnes, of the Giants turned in twenty-five victories for McGraw's men, and took rank as the biggest winner.

Lee Meadows, the bespectacled hurler who was traded to the Phillies by the Cardinals, pitched in forty games and lost twenty of them, and Lefty Cooper, of the Pirates, went through twenty-seven complete games.

The shut-out record for 1919 shows Alexander once more heading the list with nine such victories to his credit—im Vaughn, Alex's southpaw team-

WRITER PICKS PACIFIC STARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—When "experts" fall out in the selection of an All-Pacific Coast eleven for the season of 1919 who's going to be the brave man to select one? Fortunately this season, the best, by the way, in Coast football of recent years, the expression of sport writers up and down the coast and the usual run of "expert opinions" have been pretty much the same with reference to the selection of the annual list of eleven players for the All-Pacific Coast team. So picking the eleven best isn't such hard job, after all.

The season was crammed with the same sort of dope upsetting that characterized the gridiron struggles on the Atlantic and Middle-Western fields. The Coast Conference title also is very much in dispute.

If there was an individual star in the Coast football this year it was "Dummy" Wells, fullback of the University of California. Almost unanimously selected by "experts" up and down the Coast for "full," the best proof of "Dummy's" worth lies in the fact that the three or four "experts" who didn't place him at full on their "teams" did so only because they wanted to use him at halfback.

Wells was without a peer on the Coast as a line smasher. He kicked fairly well and was a better than ordinary defensive player. It is doubtful if there is a fullback in the country today who hits the line any harder than Wells of California.

Templeton, of Stanford, outshines all competitors in kicking. But he was woefully lax in every other department of the game, being essentially a "rugby" man. He was poor on defensive work, being a mere stripling, and of no value at all at carrying the ball.

To halfback selections for the first team are Gillis, of Washington State, and Holt, of Stanford. Gillis was the most consistent of all the Conference backfield men throughout the season. Holt, figuring his being new to the game, was the most remarkable player of the year in Coast football. Huntington, of Oregon, while selected by many of the "experts" was forced to accept a position on the second team. Holt was the selection of coaches, referees' association and "experts" who had seen practically all the Conference games, at least all which served as a basis of comparison for Huntington and Holt. Moran, of Washington State, was a good line plunger. Murray, of California, the feistiest backfield man on the Coast, failed to get into the "big game" against Stanford, but showed in early season games he was wonderful material. His extreme lightness worked against his being played steadily. Eckman, of Washington, pairs with him on the third team.

At quarter Steers of Oregon, for all-around playing ability and generalship, was generally picked for that all important position. Dick Hanley, of Washington State, was the runner up. He played flashily throughout the season. Deeds, of California, showed strongly in early season games.

Simpson of Southern California, though not playing on a Conference team, takes the place at center on the first team. As in the case of Holt, Simpson was picked by critics who had ample opportunity of comparing his work with Wick, of Washington, and Dunlap, of Washington State, who were about "fifty-fifty" in the opinions of the Northwest "experts."

Guards on the third team are Majors, of California, and Blake, of Washington. Both men stand out, and this among an exceptionally good "crop" of guards for this season. Ishman, of Stanford, was perhaps the best of the others.

Grimm, of Washington, was an "all star" tackle. Next to Wells, of California, Grimm was undoubtedly the most generally selected player for the first eleven. Herold, of Washington State, earned the other tackle position. Hamilton, of Washington State, and Bartlett, of Oregon, were the best of the runners up.

Fauk, of Washington, like Wells and Grimm, was a popular choice for end, with Smith his teammate, almost as great a favorite. Next in line was Roy Hanley, of Washington State, the difference between and Smith being so slight it was more or less a toss-up for the place on the first team.

JACK JOHNSON IS STAR IN NEW ROLE; FIGHTS TWO BULLS

mate, pitched 307 innings and struck out 141 batsmen.

A feature of the National League's pitching records this year is the column which gives pitchers credit for games finished. Gene Dubuc, of the Giants, was the leader in this department of the pastime, going to the relief of brother hurlers in twenty-two games. May, of the Cards, gave 87 bases on balls while Rudolph, of Boston, and Woodward, Philadelphia-St. Louis, each made eleven wild pitches.

Hod Eller, of the Reds, got credit for a no-hit game on May 11, shutting out the Cardinals without a bingle and winning his game 6 to 0. Jess Barnes scored the most consecutive victories, running his string to ten between July 4 and August 12, while Jacobs, of Philadelphia and St. Louis, lost eight games in succession.

He may do better than that."

With many pitchers using freak deliveries these days the batter finds it difficult to climb to the .300 class and remain there consistently. The National League, however, is in favor of putting the ban on freak deliveries, and if the American League concurs in this move batsmen may brighten up their averages next season.

John Heydler's leaguers are not going to be too harsh with the pitchers if changes are made, however. Those who use the spit ball now will be permitted to continue its use though other freak methods of curving the ball will be tabooed.

Hod Eller, for instance, was a shiny pitcher of more than ordinary brilliance during the recent season. Many other National League slingers have perfect deliveries known as various names, but if the legislation in question is adopted the winning pitchers of the future will have to depend on speed and natural curves to fool the hard hitting batsmen.

This exhibition took all the fight out of the bull and he absolutely refused to be anything but congenial when John Arthur returned to the ring. An assistant speared the animal but he refused to move looking around as if to spot a sponge that he might toss in the ring.

Jack finally became exhausted trying to pick a fight out of the bull and exited in a riot of applause.

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL HERE TO STAY, CLAIM

CANTON, Dec. 17.—Talk of war between professional football interests and officials of the Western conference who recently rapped the "pro" sport by voting to take varsity letters away from collegians who entered the "roughneck" department of the game, is not taken seriously by Cantonians who follow the autumnal pastime.

No matter what the Western conference does, the professional game is here to stay. One of the most bitter foes of the professional sport is Walter Eckersall, a former star player and now a writer for a Chicago newspaper. Eckersall may be peevish for Canton would not approve his name when it came to picking officials for the second game with the Hammond team in the Windy City Thanksgiving. Capt. Thorpe of Canton claimed Eckersall had shown partiality in the first game which ended in a 3-3 count. Canton taking the final encounter 7-0.

In 1920, Cleveland, Akron, Canton and Massillon will be in the race for national honors, now held by Canton. Other cities are on the football horizon. Players will be in demand. It will be a case of the survival of the strongest.

OVER HIS TEA CARPENTIER TELLS COOK HOW HE KNOCKED BRITISH CHAMP OUT

Georges Carpentier and Mme. Vaavelbrouc.

If ring fans in the United States thought for one minute that any of our husky mitt artists sipped tea of an afternoon said artists would get the cold John Razz. But that is just because it isn't done in this country, you know. Now, over in France Georges Carpentier, French idol who knocked Joe Beckett of England into ring oblivion recently, can take tea and get away with it. It's the proper thing. This interesting photo shows him taking a sip and a bite with Mme. Vaavelbrouc, the woman who prepared his meals while he was training for the Beckett bout.

Latest—Western conference or no Western conference.

Professionals haven't invaded college circles in the past. Collegians themselves value amateur standing. Cases are rare of a college player deserting the varsity to play with professionals until after the close of his college career.

As for the Western conference, something must be wrong with the officials. To legislate against professional football and not against professional baseball is like cutting off one's nose to spite one's face.

CINCINNATI—Students at the University of Cincinnati are probing into the subject of the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant.

They expect to take part in nationwide voting of students on Jan. 13. The result of the poll is to show the majority sentiment of the student bodies toward the Versailles treaty. The nationwide movement originated in eastern colleges.
